OUR MISSION

Dallas Galleries for Advocacy

DGFA is a non-profit with a mission to bring galleries together into an all-inclusive organization. One that benefits our local art scene, the galleries themselves, and our beneficiary, Dallas Children's Advocacy Center. By uniting our gallery community we aim to increase exposure and introduce a broader audience to the Dallas art scene.

DONATE TO DALLAS CHILDREN'S ADVOCACY CENTER

OUR PARTNER

Dallas Children's Advocacy Center

"Dallas Children's Advocacy Center (DCAC) coordinates the investigation, prosecution, and healing services for victims of the most severe cases of child abuse in Dallas County – those that rise to the criminal level. Our average client is a 9-year-old girl who has been sexually abused by someone she knows and trusts. Each year, DCAC provides life-changing services to over 13,000 children and family members, including forensic interviews, comprehensive mental health services, and family assistance, at no cost to families."

Dallas Galleries For Advocacy is proud to partner with an organization doing such difficult and vitally important work in our community.

GALLERY ONE TWO THREE

123 PAYNE ST

Gallery One Two Three was founded in 2014 as both a working studio and showplace for artist/owner Melissa Auberty. It evolved into a Collective Group for Auberty and friends, including artists Chuck Alexander, Linda Mucha Karns, Amy Werntz, Lisa Whiteley and Molly Devoss, as well as other artists who are invited to show during specific exhibitions. The study of the figure is a classical discipline that underlies each artists' work and has become the basis for an annual show featuring the nude.

We are a group of artists who share a creative energy that is stimulated by the proximity of other artists. As a working studio as well as a gallery, a visit to Gallery One Two Three is an immersion into each artists' process and diverse styles.
